When you subscribe to JCRQSN, you receive access to a live one-hour program each month – featuring Joint Commission surveyors, JCR consultants, and other experts – discussing standards-related topics such as tracers, risk assessments, medication safety, and care transitions. Best practices from hospitals like yours are featured, and a live interactive Q&A session concludes each program. Each live program is made available to watch on demand afterward at your convenience and also offers continuing education credits.

Program titles subject to change.
