Program Description

The Joint Commission regularly aggregates standards compliance data to identify areas that present the greatest challenges to accredited organizations and certified programs. These data help The Joint Commission recognize trends and tailor education around challenging standards; National Patient Safety Goals (NPSGs); the Universal Protocol for Preventing Wrong Site, Wrong Procedure, and Wrong Person Surgery; and Accreditation or Certification Participation Requirements (APRs or CPRs).

Many of the standards data collected revealed that some of the more challenging standards identified as non-compliant include Life Safety Code (LSC).

Through in-depth expert panel discussion and featured case studies, this 60-minute event identifies the most common standards compliance issues related to LSC standards.

Objectives

After completing this activity, the participant should be able to:

- Identify the most problematic LSC standards.
- Describe practical solutions to help meet these challenges.
- Discuss creating a work plan for implementing these solutions within your organization.

Target Audience

This activity is relevant to all hospital staff, medical staff, volunteers, and contracted staff, particularly those responsible for life-safety-related activities, including safety officers and committees, engineering staff, facility managers, department managers and supervisors, performance improvement (PI) staff, training and education staff, and risk managers.
